MEMORANDUM FOR FILE

The attached bibliography is a compilation of significant documents concerning all phases of the space vehicle longitudinal oscillation problem which has been called POGO. This consists of reports and correspondence of the various contractors and agencies that have actively participated in this problem. References are separated into the two main classifications of Reports and Papers.

This bibliography is probably not complete and at least one update is planned. The reader is requested to offer any additions or corrections he might have in order to make a more useful bibliography.
